Hey. Have we seen you here before? Register your ear buds at www.hmdxaudio.com. Information like where you bought it and how you’re using it is gold for the people who make these ear buds. Do them a solid, will ya?

HMDX is pretty much short for awesome. Because you’re rocking out to one tonight and every night from now on, prepare for an awesome night too, you awesome you.

The HMDX Craze has friends—like lots of them. Invite them along next time for an even more epic night. You can check out all their online profiles at www.hmdxaudio.com.

Setup is pretty easy, but we put a manual together just in case you need it. It’s full of information and sarcasm—just like that English teacher you had that crazy semester.

Charging the ear buds is so easy you’ve probably figured it out by now, but just in case, you’ve got two options: your computer or a wall outlet.

1. The cord that came with the ear buds—the one with the USB on one end and the Micro USB on the other—will work with your computer.
2. If you want to use the wall outlet, you’ll need to pick up a power cord with a Micro USB the next time you’re at the store, or use any USB AC adapter, including the one for your cell.

Now go get ready for an epic night while your ear buds do too. They need about 3 hours of me time for 4 hours of party time.

Control Your Destiny…or at Least Your Ear Buds

Bluetooth® Connection: It’s a Setup

Like any amazing couple, this one starts with a connection—one between your device and the ear bud’s Bluetooth.

Here’s how it works:

1. We know you’re probably going to think, “derp” with this one, but we have to say it: Make sure the smartphone, tablet or computer you want to hook up to the ear buds has Bluetooth. (There. We got that out of the way.)
2. Turn on the earbuds and look for the little blinking light.
3. Do whatever your device needs you to do on its end. (We don’t know what you’re using. We’re not spies.)
4. Look for HMDX CRAZE in your device’s Bluetooth list or click YES—whatever pops up on your device—and AM you’re connected.
5. Now hit PLAY on your ear buds and crank it up—or down if you’re lame. You’re probably only going to have to do this once, unless your device goes through a major I-just-dropped-it-in-the-pool kind of reboot. The device and Bluetooth will find each other every time just as long as the ear buds are set to Bluetooth and your device’s Bluetooth is, you know—on.

If you’re connecting to a computer, you may have some extra steps on that end. You’ll have to get that information from the computer company.

Depending on your device you may be prompted to enter a pairing code. If prompted enter “0000” as the code.

To clear the pairing history hold the PLAY/PAUSE button for 5 seconds.

When friends call to interrupt your party of one—and you know they will—answer the phone without disconnecting from your HMDX Craze. Yes, that’s right. Your ear buds are a speakerphone too. How amazing is that?

Here’s how it works:
1. Make sure your phone and ear buds are connected through Bluetooth and not on a “break.”
2. Answering and ending a call works the same way: simply click the PLAY/PAUSE button on your Craze.
3. If you’d rather not talk, hold down the PLAY/PAUSE button on your Craze for three seconds to ignore the call.

THE COOLEST PART: The Craze knows when a call is coming in and pauses the music before ringing. When you hang up, the music starts where it left off—and so does the party. If it’s you making the call, just start dialing from your phone, and the Craze automatically does its hands-free thing. Isn’t it refreshing to know your ear-buds totally get you?

A soft, dry towel is all you need to clean off your ear buds. Using water, harsh cleaners or anything else only starts messing with the mechanics inside. So, yeah, don’t do it.
